

NEMBC Women's Broadcasting Award

Do you provide engaging radio for women in your community?

Do you broadcast an innovative multicultural women's program?

The NEMBC invites you to apply for the 2009 Women's Broadcasting Award, celebrating the talents and contributions of women in ethnic and multicultural community broadcasting!

Applications for the second annual NEMBC Multicultural/Ethnic Women's Broadcasting Award are now open. The winner will be announced at this year's NEMBC Conference in Melbourne during the gala dinner on November 28th, 2009.

Winners will receive a certificate and a prize, as well as acknowledgment for their program and station in the Ethnic Broadcaster magazine.

The Multicultural/Ethnic Women's Program of the Year

This will be awarded to the submission with the best live-to-air program presented by women. Please provide a recorded copy of the program on CD and a brief description of the program content in English.

Submissions will be judged on:

1. On-air presence 2. Flow of Program 3. Addressing Women's Issues 4. Technical Ability

All entries should be submitted on CD in mp3 format.

Entries close Friday October 30th 2009!

For more information or extra application forms please contact Rachael on (03) 9486 9549, email at women@nembc.org.au or visit the NEMBC website www.nembc.org.au

Last year's inaugural NEMBC Multicultural/Ethnic Women's Program of the Year Award went to Faten El Dana, the producer and presenter of the morning program on Muslim Community Radio 2MFM in Sydney.

Faten's Arabic and English program covers current health, social, educational and political topics. Because of its focus on women's issues, women listeners have come to regard it as their main source of information and their platform to communicate with other women in their community.

We hope this year's entries will be just as innovative and inspiring.
