

The National Ethnic
and Multicultural
Broadcasters' Council

National Conference 2018 Program

NEMBC 2018 National Conference

The NEMBC Annual Conference is a unique conference representing thousands of ethnic community broadcasters. The event brings together government representatives, community leaders, academics, multicultural organisations, radio station managers and broadcasters from across Australia. This is an opportunity for ethnic community broadcasters to network, discuss and debate key issues that relate to community broadcasting, the media and multicultural policies.

The Youth Media Conference, held as part of this conference, is the only event of its kind in Australia bringing together young community radio broadcasters, media producers, community leaders and organisations from a diverse range of multicultural backgrounds. These young people are Australia's leading network of up and coming media makers and are the faces that can, with much inspiration, shape Australia's media landscape over the next twenty years.

Host organisation

The National Ethnic and Multicultural
Broadcasters' Council

The National Ethnic and Multicultural Broadcasters' Council (NEMBC) is the national peak body that advocates for ethnic community broadcasting; promoting multiculturalism, combating racism and contributing to media diversity.

Conference Theme

'Shaping Media Diversity'

The Saturday morning session will have a panel of speakers to discuss 'Shaping Media Diversity'

Theme: Shaping Media Diversity is an appropriate topic to debate especially when there is presently so much discussion about representation in the media. The shape of our media organisations determines what messages are being delivered and those messages are becoming much more aggressive and divisive. The notion of truth is becoming illusive with 'alternative' facts and the need to fact-check everything.

Migration is shaping up to be a major federal election issue over the coming months and how those media conversations occur will determine if we as a nation become more divided or compassionate.

Ethnic community broadcasters already shape our media diversity by being the third-pillar of media in Australia but what role will the ethnic community broadcasting sector play in the coming years and decades; will we be change agents and shapers and if so what do we need to do now that can help shape media diversity into the future.

Be part of the discussion!

Conference Workshop Sessions

Session 1

How to use social media effectively and responsibly to promote your program

Find out what's legal on social media. Do we actually know? This is going to be interesting because we are going to bend the rules and show you how it's done and we need to define strategies for the way forward so we protect stations but can also thrive in the social media digital space.

Presenters

Facilitated by Russell Anderson – Executive Officer, NEMBC

- Steven Brown – Legal Practitioner/Director of Lynn and Brown Lawyers
- Andrew Andrawos – Broadcaster at 5EBI and Director on the Board of the Australian/Egyptian Federation representing the state of South Australia at a National Level

Marketing for Ethnic community radio programs and stations. Obtaining sponsorship for your radio station and how marketing and branding works with sponsors to develop popular programs. Short preview of the new NEMBC Multicultural AFL Football TV Panel Show and information about the forthcoming A League TV program and podcasts. Sports events broadcast training planned for next year, followed by a Q&A segment.

Presenters

- Fotis Kapetopoulos – Director, Kape Communications Pty Ltd
- Jo Pratt – Station Manager, 4EB FM
- Fiv Antoniou – Operations Officer, NEMBC

Session 2

Marketing and how to Create the 'Perfect Pitch'

How to get Sponsorship for a station or an Ethnic Community Broadcasters program. Branding and Production development, NEMBC Media Accreditation and training opportunities for 2019.

Session 3

What to know about defamation

Keeping your local broadcast within the legal framework.

Session 5

Break the Digital Disruption and make a Podcast

How to make a podcast; you need to start somewhere so let's start with the basic 101 course for beginners.

The aim of this workshop is to explore the basic features of the Hindenburg audio editing program. The CMTO has been working in close partnership with the Danish audio company and have found it to be a great platform for podcast production.

Workshop facilitators will work through the basic features of the program, giving participants the ability to import, edit, clean and publish content.

Presenters

- Giordana Caputo – CEO of the Community Media Training Organisation
- Emma Couch – National Training Manager at the CMTO

Session 6

Community Broadcasting Foundation (CBF)

The CBF proudly supports ethnic community broadcasting. This year CBF will be investing $3.9M to help diverse ethnic communities connect via the airwaves. In this session, Dean Langely and Barbara Baxter from the CBF Grants Support Team, supported by CEO Ian Stanistreet, will provide an overview of CBF Content and Development & Operations grants and how broadcasters can prepare for the next round of funding opening in January 2019. They'll inspire you with case studies, tips and answer any questions you may have.

Presenters

- Ian Stanistreet – CBF Chief Executive Officer
- Barbara Baxter – CBF Grants Administrator
- Dean Linguey – CBF Grants Administrator

Sunday Morning 9am to 10.30am

Member Engagement Session - Youth and Main Combined

Similar to last year we are holding this popular session to engage our members about important issues facing our sector. We would like to hear your suggestions about what the NEMBC could be doing in the coming years. This is a combined 'Youth and Main' session so it's an opportunity for young people to have their say in this open forum. Conference Youth Sessions

Youth Sessions are primarily about young people for young people, under 30yrs old to; or anyone who works in the youth field.

Session 1

How to develop and extend critical and creative thinking skills

How to write content for different media platforms and how to engage your audience through different social media platforms?

Explore the use of critical and creative thinking when reviewing the content we broadcast on-air and online. Professional long form audio producers engage in long self-reflective practices when producing content. We too can do this to help improve our programming and compel our audiences.

This session will cover how to critically review our program content, adapt it for online broadcast and use basic production techniques for better audience uptake.

Information about the CMTOs accredited and pathways courses on these topics will be made available to participants.

CMTO Training Session Presenters:

- Giordana Caputo – CEO of the Community Media Training Organisation
- Emma Couch – National Training Manager at the CMTO

Session 2

Farida Fozdar

Associate Professor – Deputy Head of School, Research Anthropology and Sociology

Associate Professor, Farida Fozdar (aka Tilbury) is Deputy Head of Social Sciences (Research) at UWA and Chair of the UWA Culturally and Linguistically Diverse Working Group. Farida has researched major topics on migration, refugee settlement, racism and nationalism, and how media is implicated in social inclusion and exclusion. She worked with 6EBA to promote positive mental health messages for humanitarian entrants, and is currently developing a project (with A/Prof Rob Cover) to identify the value of ethnic community media in the settlement and integration process.

Rob Cover

Associate Professor – Deputy Head of School (Community and Engagement) School of Sciences

Rob Cover is Associate Professor in Communication Studies at The University of Western Australia. He completed his PhD in media theory and queer theory at Monash University (Melbourne), and subsequently taught at Monash and the University of Melbourne. He has also previously taught in media studies at Victoria University of Wellington (New Zealand) and in media at The University of Adelaide.

Maximo Perez-Torres

Ethnic Community Broadcaster

My passion for Sports has led me to start a new profession as a Media Broadcaster and Media Producer.

My current position as Director/producer of a Sports show in Spanish for Radio 3ZZZ which has given me the opportunity to cover sporting events continuously. I have experience in coverage of both Amateur and Professional Competitions such as the AFL, NBL, A-league, Australian Open, Formula One and MotoGP

With a strong personal background in sports practiced regularly in Europe such as football, basketball, handball and athletics, one of my greatest joys on moving to Australia was the discovery of two new sports - the AFL and Cricket. I have since had an unstoppable thirst to learn all I can about both of them which has included regularly attending matches and interviewing players and coaches.

Tibor Meszaros

Community Television Broadcaster and Manager

Tibor Meszaros began his involvement with community broadcasting in 1982, with an ethnic broadcasting services for Hungarian listeners, which was broadcast both in Hungarian and English languages and was carried by Curtin University Radio.

In 1988 Tibor left ethnic community broadcasting and went in to different broadcasting avenues, such as live television broadcasting and television series and including 10 years of animation.

In 1995 Tibor returned to community broadcasting, this time as a sponsor with CTV Perth. Following this, Tibor became involved as an active participant of community broadcasting in 2000 with Access 31 and currently with West TV.

Waqas Durrani

FECCA Youth Representative, Masters of Professional Accounting Specialisation student
University of Tasmania

Waqas Durrani is a dedicated and committed volunteer who has spent countless hours since his arrival in Australia to organize various events promoting human rights and multicultural events. His passion is youth education, employment and empowerment. He has contributed to an astonishing array of activities not only in his academic life and career, but also in the wider community of Australia by his advocacy for human rights and people coming from CALD and NESB background.

Jim Remedio

Jim Remedio provides that rare combination – experience, knowledge and longevity in the field, with a talent and instinct for innovation. Jim has been a key player in the Indigenous media sector since the 1980's, including two significant stints as the Chairperson of Indigenous broadcasting's peak bodies.

He was Chairman of the fledgling peak body the National Indigenous Media Association of Australia (NIMAA) in the early 1990's for 10 years. He oversaw the management and structural set up of the National Indigenous Radio Service. Was a Director of the CBF for many years, two, four-year terms as the Australia and Oceania region representative on the world community radio body AMARC.

In the 2000's, managed Radio Larrakia in Darwin, and then Yamatji Media in Carnarvon WA, then moved to CAAMA Radio Alice Springs for seven years. Since 2011 Jim has been between manager at 3KND Melbourne Indigenous station 3KND and the Queensland Remote Indigenous Media (QRAM) setting up the Black Star Network of 17 remote stations is connected by the first Indigenous Wide Area Network (WAN), with satellite redundancy, and has revolutionised the reliability, quality and impact of remote area radio.

Roy Aveling

Associate Certified Meta Coach (ACMC)

As a Communication Coach, I work on the understanding that effective communication involves two elements – external AND internal communication.

Conventional communication coaching focuses on external communication, which is important, but it's not the whole success story. Inner communication is the engine that drives the effectiveness of your communication and your interactions with others.

Whether you are constantly frustrated with work, are facing career roadblocks and don't know how to deal with them or just want to communicate effectively with employees, business partners or clients – I can help you find your voice.

Let me help you step into your power and create changes by mastering your inner communication, so you can achieve your goals and have more fulfilling personal and business relationships.

NEMBC AGM 2018

The NEMBC AGM is on Sunday 10.30 am, 25th November 2018, at Novotel Langley 221 Adelaide Terrace, Perth.

There will be a special Members Engagement Session Sunday Morning from 9am to 10.30am - Youth and Main Combined

This session, to address our members concerns, was a very popular session last year so we are holding this session again to ask our members about important issues facing our sector. This is a combined 'Youth and Main' session so it's an opportunity for young people to have their say in this open forum. What would our members like the NEMBC to do in the coming years? Participants might also think of key topics that will determine the future of ethnic community broadcasting?

From 10.30am ALL Members of the NEMBC are welcome to attend the AGM.

The 2018 AGM in Perth is not an election year but there may be a vote at the AGM so please nominate your voting delegates by filling out the form at the reception desk and put the form in the boxes at the reception desk by 5.30pm Saturday the 24th of November 2018.

The NEMBC is using an electronic voting system so please fill in the details with name and email so we can enter them in our voting system. Voting delegates will receive an email on Saturday night or Sunday morning 25 November, if they could please follow the instructions on how to open Simply Vote on your smartphone, tablet, or laptop in order to prepare for a vote.

The Voting Delegates forms will ask for your 'governing body' the name of station, organisation or broadcasters group that met to appoint you as the delegate. You need to know how many members are at your station because for every 5 members your station has one vote (or part-there-off being 3) is one vote. For example 8 members are two votes and 7 members one vote.) If you only have three members at your station you get one vote.

The NEMBC Constitution and procedures requires that, for the purpose of voting, members must be:

- (a) Financial members for 2018, not later than Sunday 11th of November 2018, two weeks before the AGM
- (b) Represent a program broadcasting regularly, in a language other than English, or a multicultural program.
- (c) Members are entitled to one vote for every five financial members, or part thereof: to be eligible for voting rights a station must have at least three financial members of the NEMBC.
- (d) Only those members who have been nominated by their stations or umbrella organisations as delegates are eligible.
- (e) Please note: for general access stations the member programs can come together and appoint their delegate(s).

Please look at the NEMBC website for an Easy Guide to the NEMBC AGM.

eChamps is a project aimed at fostering the skills of ethnic community broadcasters and building on their capacity to inform their stations of the opportunities provided through digital engagement.

As part of the project multicultural community broadcasters from around Australia receive free training to develop their online media skills and extend their broadcasting capacity at this year's NEMBC youth and main Conference.

Training involves how to use social media and other online media tools to communicate to audiences, as well as audio and video recording skills.

eChamps learn the ins and outs of social media, how to set up and use blogs to share information, as well as using audio and visual material effectively. They will blog, document and record everything that happens over the day.

The eChamps team have been at the NEMBC conference for the last five years, and even in that time technology and the way we use it has changed at a fast pace.

Keep an eye out for them documenting the conference, they may even ask you some questions or your photo!

Would you like $2000 to fund your project?

Got a great idea for your station?
For your program?
For your community?

The Tony Manicaros Grant supports program content, events, training, archiving or other projects that benefit ethnic community broadcasting.

Almost anything is possible.

The grant is open to ethnic and multicultural community broadcasters, program groups and stations from across Australia to make their project idea a reality. The most innovative and significant project will win national recognition and be given an award at the NEMBC Annual Conference.

The grant is open all year round so you can make an application at any time that suits your project.

Generously funded by 4EB, 5EBI and 3ZZZ with support from the NEMBC, the grant remembers the achievements of Tony Manicaros, the NEMBC's first president and a champion of ethnic community broadcasting at station, state and national levels.

Apply any time!

Download the grant guidelines and application form from the NEMBC website
